

The background of the image is a light gray field covered in a fine, regular grid of small dots, creating a halftone or dithered effect. Overlaid on this background are several long, thin, curved streaks in three colors: blue, orange, and yellow. These streaks originate from the top edge of the image and fan out downwards, resembling stylized rain or a burst of energy. The word "welcome" is positioned in the lower half of the image, centered horizontally. It is rendered in a dark gray, bold, sans-serif typeface. The overall composition is modern and graphic.

welcome